much in the way of actual instruction and demonstration in agriculture, but confines its energies rather to the old methods employed by the railroads in developing a sparsely settled region into a flourishing agricultural or fruit-growing district. The fact that it furnishes the much-needed transportation facilities has already caused the opening up of an immense acreage of undeveloped land in Louisiana and of land reclaimed from the swamps. The Kansas City Southern Railway Company is following out the same general line of action by furnishing the means of transportation and letting the people do the rest.

As a rule, the people will do all that is necessary when they once get a start in the right direction. Farming in the West is on the up-grade anyway, and needs very little impetus from either railroads or agricultural schools. All it needs is the opportunity to reach the market as quickly and cheaply as possible. In the East, where farming has been on the down grade for the past fifteen or twenty years, some greater stimulus than mere transportation facilities is necessary, and here the need is being met in the most practical way, principally by the object lessons in modern agriculture afforded by the demonstration farms.

ROOSEVELT'S DEFINITION OF THE NEW NATIONALISM

ALL that the new nationalism means is the application of certain oldtime moralities to the changed conditions of the day. I wish to see greater Governmental efficiency because we have to deal with greater business efficiency. Simple laws are all that are necessary in small communities where there is no big business, and each man works for himself. When you get masses of wealth gathered together and great corporations developing, conditions then become so changed that there must be an increase in Governmental activity to control the wealth for business efficiency. I would not do wrong to the great corporation, but I don't intend to rely only on the big corporation's good nature to see that the corporation doesn't do harm against us. I want to see such control of the wealth now gathered for business uses as to favor the honest man who uses the wealth genuinely for the service of the public and to make the dishonest man feel that he has to do what is right; and if he doesn't feel it, we shall see to it that he does. That is my whole creed.

COL. ROOSEVELT AT RIVERHEAD.
