CONTENTS

Preface ......................................................................................................................... III

List of Sources ................................................................................................................ VII

List of Abbreviations and Symbols ................................................................................ XI

List of Persons ............................................................................................................... XV

PART 1

United States national security policy: U.S. objectives and programs for national security; estimates of threats to the national security; military posture and foreign policy; organization for national security ........................................... 1

PART 2

Policy of the United States with respect to atomic energy and the regulation of armaments; President Eisenhower's "Atoms for Peace" proposal of December 8, 1953; other foreign policy aspects of U.S. development of atomic energy .................................................................................................................. 845

Discussions with the United Kingdom and Canada regarding the danger of general war with the Soviet Union and the use of United States bases in the United Kingdom and Canada in the event of general war; arrangements for emergency use of U.S. strategic bases in foreign areas ... 1590

The United States foreign information program .................................................................. 1591

The report of the President's Committee on International Information Activities, June 30, 1953 .......................................................... 1795

Index .............................................................................................................................. 1903