

Belgian Soldiers Are Without Tobacco

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Under War Conditions Smoking Is the One Comfort and Solace

A Long Hard March and No Smokes—That's Misery

Smokes Would Brighten a Scene of Woe Like This

A Wounded English "Tommy" Craves a Smoke and Gets It. The Belgian Must Do Without. Tobacco Is Not Among His Rations and His Friends Are Destitute

These Men Would Say
"Thank You" for a Smoke
at the End of a Winter "Hike"

At Home They Had Smokes With Their Coffee.
In War They Get None

They Appeal to the American People
