

CHAPTER III

2-3. JOACHIM KRUEGER was born in 1803 and he married Anna Sophia Rusch about 1826 in Niederhagen area. They came over in 1854 with their stalwart sons and soon settled in Maple Grove. There are quite a few land transactions to Kruegers in Sections 25 and 36 from 1855 on. Much was classified as swamp land. One wonders why they would buy it unless you know they were looking for land that was like the area they came from. They knew how to make a living from it.

Their daughter, Fredericka Krueger was born 3 Aug 1828 in Niederhagen. She married Fredrich SCHMIDT in 1848 and came to the United States with Michael and Dorothea Krueger on the Ship Julie in 1852. Fr. Schmidt was a forester, aged 33 years and the two children who came with them were; Augusta, 2½ years and Bertha, a baby. According to Fredericka's obituary they remained in Milwaukee a short time and then came to Reedsville. Around 1856 Fredrich Schmidt was accidentally shot by his brother-in-law while deer hunting and she remarried Frederick Otto in 1857. She was converted in 1863, had nine children, six living at the time of her death 14 Mar 1915, 41 grandchildren and 29 great-grandchildren. She was 86 years, had asthma and died at the home of her son, William C. Otto. Frederick Otto was born 23 Dec 1813 at Witznitz and died 19 Oct 1908, having attained the age of 95 years.

Fredericka's grown children were; Thressa Schmidt Kamke, Johanna Schmidt Diekvoss, Wilhelmina Otto Franzke, Ernestine Otto Graetz, John F. Otto, William C. Otto and Amelia Otto Gissenas. Augusta and Bertha died young in Milwaukee and are buried there. More on the Schmidts and Ottos follows.

A history has been written in 1951 on the occasion of the 27th annual reunion of the Gottfried J. Krueger family. Gottfried was born 5 Feb 1830, the son of Joachim and Anna. He was the first one to come to America in 1851, and his parents, two brothers and a sister followed. On 1 Jan 1891 he was naturalized. Gottfried married Henriette Fredrick in 1853 and they spent their honeymoon walking from Milwaukee to Reedsville. They farmed ¾ mile northeast of Reedsville and he was a great hunter and fisherman. Twelve children were born to them and the children and grandchildren are included on the following pages, but no attempt was made to update due to lack of time. Gottfried died 13 Jul 1895.

In 7 Jan 1857 Joachim Krueger Jr. married J.K.L. Schmidt, daughter of John Schmidt. Was she a sister of Fredrick Schmidt? No definite trace of this family was found other than the marriage record at the Manitowoc Court House. He probably moved away and/or went by another name. The family says Uncle Jacob went west.

Karl A. Krueger was born 22 Feb 1833 in Niederhagen to Joachim and Anna Krueger. After coming to Wisconsin, he owned a 120 acre farm in Section 36 in the town of Maple Grove. About 1862 he married Fredericka Ninneman, the daughter of David Ninneman and Christina Reinke. No marriage record has been found. Was it in Oconto County or Marinette County as some of their children were born in Stiles? A short note was found in the Brillion Newsnotes of the Chilton Times for Saturday 2 Jul 1904 for the death of Karl A. Krueger on 24 June.

"Chas. Krueger of Maple Grove died of paralysis Wednesday of last week, aged 71 years. Mr. Krueger was an old settler and was an uncle of chairman Otto." (Town chairman was John F. Otto.)

The nine children of Karl A. and Fredericka Krueger are; August G. Krueger, Louise Schnell, Ottilia Haese, Louis and Martin Krueger, Bertha Beeck, Arthur, William and Adina Krueger and information on their descendents and the Ninnemans and Haeses is included in this chapter. They continue to have family reunions.

IT TAKES A RICH MAN TO DRAW A CHECK, a pretty girl to draw attention, a horse to draw a cart, a free lunch to draw a crowd and an advertisement in your home paper to draw trade

Arnold was an attorney in Milwaukee. In 1964 he published a book,"Madeline Bird Otto,"which has much historical data on the Bird,Otto,Bourne and Sparkes families.Arnold C.Otto's biography is in Vol.5 of Fred L.Holmes "History of Wisconsin."One interesting note in it,"Krueger,Rusch,Haese and Otto are the names of numerous families in the vicinity of Reedsville. Nearly all are related to Mr.Otto in a greater or nearer degree."
It also states that Arnold Otto examined the church records at Obernhagen (the parish to which Niederhagen belonged)in 1929 when he visited there. Were the records destroyed in WW II or are they hidden somewhere,where some conscientious person put them?We hope someday they will be located.

Attorneys for the plaintiff discovered that Jurymen Gonia and J. M. Johnson had been seen drinking with Defendant Koenig at Schindler's Saloon at one point during the trial. They asked that the case be retried because of misconduct on the part of certain members of the jury.

The case hung fire for several weeks. Exact disposition of one of the most unusual trials in county history lie hidden in dusty files of Manitowoc Circuit Court.

Story concerning the death of Gottfried O. Krueger p.134.

Taken from the Herald-Times on "Early Manitowoc County History".

DOG IS FOUND INNOCENT by John Harmon

Rover had his day in court at Manitowoc Thursday, July 21, 1904. The case in Circuit Judge Michael Kirwan's court made up one of the most unusual and unique issues ever to appear on the justice dockets of Manitowoc County.

Legal question posed before His Honor Kirwan and 12 good men of the jury was: Did a dog owned by Reinhardt Koenig of the Village of Reedsville create a disturbance which led directly to the death of Gottfried O. Krueger, also of the Village of Reedsville, the year before(1903)?

The issues brought out some of the top attorneys of Manitowoc County. George B. Sedgwick and his son, John J. Healy, Walter M. Joyce and A. J. Schmitz acted as counsel for the plaintiff (the widow of Krueger) and the brothers Lyman J. and E. G. Nash for the defense(Koenig).

Facts of the case, as brought out in testimony during a long, steamy hot day in July, were simple enough. Krueger had died about a year before of injuries suffered when his horse ran away, pitched him out on his head and the buggy passed over his body. He expired about 20 minutes after the mishap which occurred on a dusty street at the Village of Reedsville. Further facts indicated that Krueger's horse had bolted and run following a vicious attack by Koenig's dog. Witnesses verified the fact that the dog had made a run for the horse and had barked at its heels. Defendant Koenig took the witness stand near the close of the trial. Defense Counsel Lyman J. Nash started the questioning.

"What type of dog is Rover?" he asked.

"Jus' dog, I guess," Koenig answered. The gallery crowd laughed and Judge Kirwan scowled over his glasses.

"How old is the dog?" Attorney Nash asked.

"Don't rightly know," was the answer. "I think he came from a litter about two years ago."

"Does the dog bark?" was the question.

"Mebe some-but what dog does not?" Koenig answered. Plaintiff Attorney Healy jumped to his feet.

"Objection to the answer, Your Honor. Mr. Koenig is drawing a conclusion." Judge Kirwan removed the glasses from his face and wiped his brow.

"Objection sustained. Please restrict your answers to the question, Mr. Koenig." The defendant squirmed in his chair. He did not understand all the legal terminology that was being thrown at him. But even Judge Kirwan should realize that every dog that was ever born did some barking at one time or another.

Attorneys on both sides made strong pleas to the jury. Plaintiff counsel claimed that Widow Krueger should be payed a sum of $8,000 for damages suffered by her husband in his untimely death in the accident. Attorneys for the defense were just as loud and emphatic in their demands that the 12 man panel find the horse owned and driven by Mr. Krueger at the time of the mishap to be "unsafe and unfit as a driving horse."

Judge Kirwan instructed the jury on a 13-point special verdict and the panel was closeted. The long wait commenced in Manitowoc Circuit Court. Judge Kirwan and interested parties drowsed as the jury deliberated for more than six hours behind closed doors. The jury came in with a verdict during the late night hours of Friday, Jan.22, 1904. Judge Kirwan cleared his throat. "Have you reached a verdict, Gentlemen?"

"We have," answered Jury Foreman Frank Gonia of Two Rivers. "We have found the dog innocent of all charges." A great shout went up from the spectators.

"Hmhmhmhm, this is all very irregular since the dog was not on trial," the justice mused. Had the jurors misunderstood the verdict? Even though Rover had been completely exonerated of all blame in the accident, the issue was not settled.

EVERYONE LOVES SOMEONE

Everyone loves someone;For a million little things
But when someone loves everyone;Life Eternal springs.

Most everyone stands five feet tall;And some stand six or seven
But he who serves his fellow man;Stands halfway up to Heaven .

We need not boast of Heraldry; We need not pomp nor power
Love bestowed on those we love;Will be our shining hour.

God made such a few of us; Who serve our fellow man
That it behooves the rest of us;To do the best we can.

COUNTY CLERK HART TELLS ONE on himself. He says that a short time ago a gentleman called at his office who was dressed and had the appearance of a clergyman of the Catholic Church. He inquired, upon entering the office, if he was addressing Mr. Hart and upon receiving an answer in the affirmative, said, "You have sent me considerable work in the Matrimonial line by issuing licenses and I thought, seeing that I was in the city, I would call and thank you in person and have you issue me a license." Ed was thunder-struck for a moment until the reverend gentleman smiled and added, "I think I am entitled to a vacation after performing so many marriages and desire a hunting license."

LUDWIG RUSCH

This is an outline of the Ludwig RUSCH family. It is believed that he is a son of Anna Sophia ()Rusch who married Joachim Krueger second. According to the Ludwig Rusch history written in 1961 by Leona Larson, now deceased, "Great Grandmother Rusch (Ludwig's mother) was married twice, first to a Rusch and then to a Krueger. Therefore, a maiden name is unknown as well as her husband's first name.

They were on the same ship as Michael and Dorothea (Rusch) Krueger in 1852. He could be a nephew. Ludwig's home at Reedsville was used for Lutheran Church services before the church was built. Ministers came from Manitowoc. When German immigrants arrived Ludwig gave them shelter and food until their own home was built. We don't know if he had any full brothers and sisters.

THE HAESE FAMILY

Few of our old settlers were so successful as the Haese Family of the town of Rockland. Their old town was Regentalde close to Stettin where their father owned a large farm. As the children grew up, the older ones became discontent with the conditions. They saw no opportunity to work themselves up. Louis Rusch married Wilhelmine, one of the daughters. She still lives in Rockland. Her husband died several years ago. Rusch had relatives by the name of Krueger (Gottfried J.) who had settled in Rockland. It has been said if one writes the history of the Kruegers of Rockland you'd have to use several books because their relatives are to be found in all areas. There are so many that the village is called "Kruegertown".

So, the Krueger wrote to his relative Rusch such glowing stories of this country that Rusch decided to sell all his assets and emigrate to the U.S. He persuaded his brother-in-law Frederick Schmidt and Gottlieb Haese to come too. In 1852 the three of them with the wives of Rusch and Schmidt said goodbye to their fatherland. (They were on the ship Julie with Michael and Dorothea Krueger.) They took the usual route from New York to Buffalo to Milwaukee. They stayed there sometime and worked at anything and finally went to Manitowoc (County).

There they bought land in Rockland for $1.75 per acre. Because of their ambition the same land is now worth 100 times as much. First they built huts, later log cabins, which had to give way to modern houses by now. They lived through all the changes of pioneer life. First they plowed by oxen, later by horses. First they used a sickle, later a reaper. First a manual thresher, later a machine thresher. First they made pottery and the necessary things themselves which all gave way. Gottlieb Haese is still living, a very agile man of 84 years, and we thank him for the facts we know here. Until a few years ago he still made voyages every year to his old village.

In 1854 came the oldest son, Johann with his brothers Ferdinand 14, and August 9 yr. They settled in Rockland. Johann got married after his arrival here and is now a widower. Four years later came the father (Christolph) with Carl, Wilhelm, and Albert. The daughter, Louise came with Schmidt and Rusch. Only one child stayed in Germany, Caroline Zimmer and still lives close to the old village. Ferdinand went to war and married on his return his present wife who waited faithfully for him. After the war he bought a sawmill in Morrison, Brown County which he still owns and runs. For sometime August and Albert were his business partners. At that time the country around here was full of pine trees and many people laid the groundstone for their wealth. Carl and Wilhelm were in the meantime owners of nice farms. The only one who moved from here was Albert who settled in Dakota.

Interesting is to follow their marriages who involved other families in the county. So Wilhelm took his wife from Manitowoc. He married a member of the branches of the Pautz family. Louise moved to Cooperstown and became the wife of William (August) Rabenhorst. He died many years ago, while she just died recently. Out of the town August also found his wife, a daughter of one of the many and prominent Olp family.

Carl turned in a different direction and married one of the Krueger daughters (Fredericka) of Liberty. After his death his widow bought a comfortable house on the north side of town where she remained a faithful and avid reader of the Post. She spent a lot of time with her children on the farm. Albert followed her example and took as a wife a daughter of H. Baryenbruch, one of the oldest settlers of Liberty. Ferdinand found his wife closer to home from the Grimm's family. They belonged to the oldest settlers there as is shown by the name of the village by the Northwestern railroad.

All in all the Haeses had 10 children who all except three—Wilhelm (Johann), Louise and Carl are still alive. Their children had about 40 (65) children while the exact number of grandchildren is unknown.

HAESE INFORMATION

In researching the Kruegers and Rusches, much information was found on the Haese family. The father of the family was Christolph F. Haese who was born 11 Jul 1786 in Gardin, County Regenwalde, married Carolina Backhaus who died there before he came over. In 1856 Christolph followed four of his sons to the Rockland area. He was then about 70 years old. He died 17 Mar 1871(4) and is buried in St. John-St. James Cemetery, Reedsville. This is an outline of his children and grandchildren. You will notice some of his descendents married into the Krueger families.
