FOX LAKE, 1012  DODGE COUNTY

This summer resort town is in the heart of a rich agricultural section in Dodge county. Fox Lake attracts many tourists.

FOX LAKE REPRESENTATIVE

Circulation, 890  Thursday

Here is another of Wisconsin's old newspapers. Founded in 1866, this weekly is today edited by F. H. Baker.

B W

FREDERIC, 682  POLK

A pea canning factory, wollen mill, pickle factory, are in this Polk county town. Numerous lakes make it popular as a summer resort town but the principal industry in the community is farming, with dairying leading in importance. A strong cooperative creamery in Frederic and several in the surrounding territory show the importance of dairying.

FREDERIC STAR

Circulation, 800  Is it sworn? No  Thursday

Advertising rates - display, per inch 25¢. Classified, per line 5¢. Agency commission, 15%.

Founded in 1903, this polk county weekly is today owned by Harvey J. Oleson and Dick Pugh of the Luck Enterprise. Oleson edits the paper.

B W

FRIENDSHIP, 442  ADAMS

Railroad shops and roundhouses are in this Adams county town. Grain, potatoes and dairy products from the local farm are also important to Friendship.

FRIENDSHIP REPORTER

Circulation, 1000  Thursday

The Reporter was founded in 1901. Today it is conducted by H. S. Pierce.