to Waupun Fond du Lac Co., Wis., and began the practice of law, associating himself with H. E. Connit of that place, and their firm has the principal legal business in that section of the County. He is also Member of the Wis. State Legislature and is Chairman of the Committee on Incorportations in the Assembly.

J. B. SELBY, Jun.,

was born at Pultneyville, N. Y., October 26th, 1821, and studied medicine at Willoughby College, Ohio, and graduated at the New York City University in April 1842. He practiced his profession until 1860 in the city of Milwaukee. On the breaking out of the war he was appointed by President Lincoln United States Pension Agent at Milwaukee, and continued to discharge the duties of that office until he was removed by President Johnson in July, 1866, since which time he has been engaged in the sale of agricultural implements, as a partner in the firm of L. J. Bush & Co. Dr. Selby has acted in several capacities since the biographer has been in Milwaukee, and it is but doing common justice to him, to state, that in every position he has occupied, he was uniformly found strictly correct, amply capable, truly obliging, and gentlemanly.

W. A. WEBBER

was born in Batavia, State of New York, Jan. 20th, 1818; was educated in Batavia, and came to Milwaukee on the 11th day of April 1836. On his arrival at Milwaukee he opened a hotel, called the Washington House, made and put up the first billiard table in 1836; and continues in the same business still.

He kept a grocery for some time, and built the second frame building of any size in Milwaukee. He traded a good deal with the Indians, and always made it his study to treat them with great kindness. He saw Milwaukee in its infancy, and as an old settler must have suffered his share of the hardships incident to a pioneer’s life. Mr. Webber, by close attention to business, has accumulated a handsome competency in real estate.

FREDERICK WARDNER

left Woodstock, Vermont, on the 6th day of October, 1836, and arrived at Milwaukee November 10th, 1836; was engaged in mercantile business for many years, and once occupied the positions of Alderman and City
