Public Documents

Pilgrim School District #7 Clerk's Record Book, 1948.
Ranke School District #5 Clerk's Record Book, 1930.
Waterford School District #1 School Record Books, 1866,

Surprisingly clear and easy to read, it gives the reader very good insight into past school history.

Books

Mostly a business promotion, but it does give a brief history of the community and its churches, schools, and businesses.

Articles and Periodicals

A very interesting article because the Post was observing its 75th anniversary with this issue.

Graded School Addition will be Dedicated here Tuesday, November 17. The Waterford Post, Volume LXXVIII (Nov. 11, 1964).
An article that covers the building program quite completely and also gives a brief history of the graded school.
A brief but important pamphlet on early landmarks and historical events in Waterford.

Storms, William. A two page letter to school boards of Racine County. Burlington, Wisconsin, June 24, 1901. (Mineographed).
A well written letter that must have been very informative to the school board.

This paper dealt mainly with Mrs. Tindall’s ancestors and their contributions to Waterford.

Other Sources

An amusing interview; also very refreshing to talk to an eighty-four year old man who has just climbed off a tractor after doing field work to talk school business.

Hulbert Home. Personal interview with Alice Hulbert. April, 1968.
A brief account pertaining to the West High Street School.

Tindall Home. Personal interview with Alice Barnes Tindall. September, 1967; April, 1968.
Mrs. Tindall gave this author more material and information than any other person regarding the background history of Waterford, Wisconsin.

Mr. Graf attended grade school in Waterford, served as a board member and is now the bus contractor for the district. He was very helpful.

The Ranke School was named after his family. He went to school there and the old school house is still on his farm.
