

THE CUNNINGHAM ERA IN PERSPECTIVE

WE also have made special our debt during the first half of the twentieth century and a lasting debt of gratitude to W. A. Cunningham, Editor of the one-time Neenah Gazette for recording the history of the settlement in its early beginnings in the year 1852. Now we are endeavoring to give a picture of the 60 years that have since elapsed in a condensed form. We do not hope to hand out to a future generation something of the charm of antiquity that links their generation with those who have gone before. A student's credit
