

best advantage. Persons who have not completed a common school education, but who are by age and experience fitted for the work may be admitted to the course. Experience has shown that the young men at least 20 years of age who have a general knowledge of farming are able to secure the greatest benefit from the course.

See page 25 for additional information on short unit course admission.

Persons who are graduates of high school or its equivalent may enter the Winter Courses with the privilege of selecting work from either the first, second, or third year schedules. Credit toward a Winter Course certificate will be granted for work completed in agriculture in high schools or colleges if the work is of similar grade and quality. Thirty-six credits are required for graduation but this may be reduced by credit for work done in high school or College subject to approval of the credits by the Winter Course Committee. At least 18 credits of Winter Course work must be completed at Madison before a certificate is granted.

Graduates of high schools who have had two or more years of agriculture and others with equivalent training in agriculture from county agent short courses and county schools of agriculture, may complete the course in less than two winters of 15 weeks each. The maximum credit granted for this work will be 18 credits and the amount of credit will depend upon the number of years of agriculture, the quality of instruction, projects and equipment, of the institution where the agriculture was taken.

A record of work from the school for which credit is to be requested together with subjects, semesters taken, standings and certificate of graduation or attendance signed by the high school principal should be sent to T. L. Bewick, Director of Winter Courses a month before you wish to enter so there will be time to pass on records and plan schedule before registration day. Do not delay in having records sent to Madison.
