STATE PARTY PLATFORMS

DEMOCRATIC PARTY STATE PLATFORM

PREAMBLE

All policies and programs of our national and state governments must be adopted and pursued with the full realization that our first basic objective is to win a just and durable peace. The Democratic Party believes that the surest formula for peace consists of a sturdy defense, a free and strong alliance with other freedom-loving nations, consistent with the fullest support of the United Nations, steady resistance to Communist expansion and all possible assistance to uncommitted peoples who are striving to build their economic strength.

We are proud of the record of the Democratic administrations of Roosevelt and Truman in checking aggression and in building the peace. We deplore the recent loss of our prestige that has accompanied the inept conduct of our foreign affairs by the present Republican administration. We believe that the re-election of a Democratic administration is essential if we are to regain our position of leadership in the free world and to recapture the initiative in the struggle for the minds and hearts of the uncommitted third of the world.

While we struggle for peace overseas, we strive at home for a steadily expanding national economy in which the worker, farmer and businessman all share in an ever-increasing standard of living. The Democratic Party has always believed that no one economic group should dominate government. The present Republican administrations in Washington and Madison have been dominated by Big Business. While the large corporate interests that control the Republican Party have profited disproportionately under Republican leadership, all agriculture has suffered and thousands of small businessmen have been engulfed in a rising tide of bankruptcies. The election of Democratic administrations in Washington and Madison is the only way we can put an end to this "single interest" domination of our government.

The Democratic Party is pledged nationally to the enactment of social and economic legislation that will carry forward the great progress made under the Democratic New Deal and Fair Deal programs. In this effort the national and state governments must work together. The only way many problems that exist throughout the nation can be quickly and decisively attacked is by joint federal and state action and by the use of sound programs of federal aid to state and local governments.

After 18 years of uninterrupted control by the Republican Party, Wisconsin has lost its position as the great leader among the states in the enactment of broad social legislation. Through the Democratic Party the people of this state can bring a rebirth of the progressive spirit that once distinguished our state. Through the Democratic Party the Wisconsin Idea can be revived. To this end as Democratic Party candidates for state office we pledge ourselves to the following program of action on the major responsibilities which must be met by our state government:

I. Education: The greatest single problem confronting all the citizens of our state is the proper education of our children. The Democratic Party pledges itself to the enactment of legislation that will insure adequate educational service at the primary, secondary and college level. It is imperative that the problems of increased operating costs, construction of needed school buildings and improvement of the economic status of teachers be met by joint federal, state and local action. We recognize that substantial additional appropriations are required and we propose herein increased state revenues to meet these costs.

The Democratic Party favors:

1. Increased state aid to local school districts to relieve the burden on property taxpayers and to provide equality of educational opportunity, such aid to be coordinated with the enactment of federal school aid legislation.

2. Adequate appropriations to insure effective operation of the University of Wisconsin, the newly established lakeshore college at Milwaukee and the system of state colleges.

3. Immediate action by the Governor to call a referendum to permit teachers to be covered by social security in addition to their regular retirement program.

4. Coverage of state-employed teachers by social security as a supplement to their regular retirement plan.

5. Increased aids to vocational education and guidance programs.

II. Public Welfare: The Democratic Party believes the welfare laws of the state should be liberalized as follows:

1. The present harsh definition of what constitutes permanent total disability under the aid to disabled should be changed so that Wisconsin can qualify for several million dollars a year in additional federal aids that would be made available to disabled persons.

2. The law requiring children to support their aged parents should be liberalized to place greater reliance on the natural bond of affection and sympathy rather than compulsion to the detriment of young and growing families.

3. The law opening up relief and old-age assistance records for public inspection should be amended to provide adequate safeguards.

4. A public commission should be established to study the entire mental health problem in the state with a view to increasing and improving on professional mental health staffs and facilities, developing new techniques and facilities for treatment and providing for insurance protection to cover the costs of treatment of psychiatric disorders.

5. A series of public centers should be created for the care and treatment of children with emotional problems.

6. Our State Constitution should be amended to provide for state assistance to local communities on the growing problem of eliminating slums and blighted areas and insuring adequate housing for families of low income.

III. Human Rights: The Democratic Party of Wisconsin believes that all people should have an equal right to a good job, to a good education, to good housing, and to equal treatment in every field of human endeavor. We should work for these rights through both education and an adequate enforcement program.

To this end, we propose the establishment by the Wisconsin Legislature of an "Equal Opportunity Commission." This commission should be given broad powers to curb discrimination, based on race, religion or national origin in employment, housing, education, public accommodations and any other field of human endeavor.

To operate effectively, the commission should have enforcement powers, including the right to conduct educational and informational conferences and activities, receive complaints, initiate investigations, subpoena witnesses, hold hearings, conciliate and arbitrate, and issue cease and desist orders. The commission should be financed by appropriations that are adequate for effective enforcement.

IV. Conservation: True conservation involves the protection and management of natural resources to the end that human lives and future generations may be enriched and made more secure. We believe the conservation program of the state should concern itself to an increasing degree with the long-range management of the basic resources, the soils, waters, minerals, forests and wildlife, keeping in mind that the renewable resources are capable of sustained yield cropping indefinitely.

We recognize that the recreational and aesthetic uses of wildlife and the scenic values of certain streams and wild areas may be more important in terms of human health and welfare than the commercial value.

The Democratic Party favors:

1. Increased reforestation of cut-over and marginal farming lands in northern Wisconsin consistent with a balanced conservation program.

2. Adequate authority and appropriations to the Conservation Department to provide for public access to lakes and streams where the public interest warrants.

3. Continued action and stronger programs for the elimination of water pollution including state assistance to municipalities involved.

4. Better maintenance of state parks.

5. Adequate program to eliminate the sea lamprey.

6. Establishment of a system of price reporting on basic forest products for farmers.

V. Highways and Highway Safety: Leading federal and state highways should be considerably improved as a result of the recent enactment of new federal and state highway construction programs. We favor a study of the whole system of financing state and local highways and especially of the method of sharing highway revenues.

We favor stronger highway safety measures and especially as regards periodic reexamination of drivers, and regulation of drunk drivers.

VI. Labor: The Democratic Party believes that bold new steps should be taken to bring Wisconsin back to its rightful position of leadership in unemployment compensation, workmen's compensation, wage and hour, and other basic social programs adopted for the benefit of the workingman.

1. The Workmen's Compensation Law should be improved as follows:

a. The maximum weekly benefit should be increased to $56 in order to enable middle-bracket wage earners to receive actually 70 % of their wage loss which is the percentage specified in the law.

b. Weekly benefits for permanent disabilities of a serious nature should continue to be paid beyond the number of weeks now specified if they continue to cause wage loss beyond that time.

c. Widows should be paid a pension for life or until remarriage.

d. The death benefit payable to orphans should be increased from 13 % of the widow's benefit to 25 %.

2. The Unemployment Compensation Act should be improved as follows:

a. The maximum weekly benefit should be increased to equal that paid under workmen's compensation.

b. The maximum duration of benefits should be increased from 26½ to 36½ weeks.

c. The waiting period should be reduced to not more than 3 days as now provided in the workmen's compensation law.

d. All employers in the various kinds of employment now specified in the law, as well as employers engaged in logging, should be made subject to the law.

3. Any payment received from a private unemployment compensation plan should not be considered as wages or remuneration for the purpose of reducing payments made from the Wisconsin Unemployment Compensation Fund.

4. Compensation should be paid for unemployment due to sickness on the same basis as unemployment due to lack of work, as is already done in 4 other states.

5. More industrial safety inspectors should be employed, their reports should be made available to collective bargaining agencies, and a more vigorous policy of securing employer compliance with safety regulations should be put into effect.

6. The minimum wage law should cover both men and women and should be fixed at not less than $1.00 an hour.

7. The so-called Wisconsin "Labor Peace Act" should be substantially revised and replaced with a genuine "Labor Peace Act" which would protect and promote collective bargaining by prohibiting such anti-labor actions as the issuance of court injunctions prior to a hearing.

8. The statute of limitation of 2 years on the collection of wage-claims should be repealed and the 6 year statute of limitations that applies to the collection of all other claims should be reinstated.

9. Garnishment of wages before a judgment is secured should be prohibited.

10. We oppose enactment of a so-called "right to work" law and we favor the right of workers through their unions to negotiate union-shop agreements.

VII. Small Business and Industrial Development: Our state government should be especially concerned about the welfare of small businessmen. Any program for small business in the state must recognize that a prosperous agriculture is indispensable to good times for the merchant, tradesman and small manufacturer.

Our state government should act together with the federal government to check the ever-increasing power of the large corporations acquired at the expense of the family-size business. The Democratic Party believes that small businessmen should receive a fair share of our growing wealth and at the state level will support:

1. Clarification and enforcement of the fair trade and 6 per cent laws.

2. Vigorous enforcement of state antitrust laws.

3. Enactment of a state program to simplify reports required of businessmen.

4. Establishment of a State Department of Commerce to integrate all presently authorized state programs relating to promotion of business and industry, to assist business in obtaining credit where commercial sources prove inadequate, to make research and business facilities of University of Wisconsin more available to small business, and to promote the industrial development of Wisconsin.

VIII. Agriculture: Prosperity on Wisconsin farms is indispensable to the general well-being of all segments of our state's economy. Our state government should act to supplement federal programs designed to improve the lot of the Wisconsin farmer. The Democratic Party favors:

1. Action by our state to break down unfair sanitation and inspection barriers to much-needed new markets for Wisconsin milk and milk products in other states.

2. Continuation of the program to eliminate brucellosis.

3. Aggressive action to assist formation of cooperative dairy marketing program to increase the bargaining power of Wisconsin dairy farmers on a regional and national basis as a help in obtaining fair prices and their rightful share of national income.

4. An all-out nationwide fight to achieve full parity incomes for Wisconsin farmers by the Governor of Wisconsin as the chief executive of the nation's dairyland state.

IX. Veterans: The Democratic Party supports the system of selective state aids to veterans in terms of grants, loans, hospitalization, education and unemployment compensation benefits. We propose return of funds from the special liquor tax to veterans housing. We favor more adequate facilities at the Grand Army Home at King.

X. Civil Defense: The Democratic Party pledges its support to a workable and realistic civil defense program under which adequate measures will be taken to assure protection of Wisconsin citizens in event of enemy attack.

XI. Government Organization: We believe that the executive branch of the state needs a strong agency whose responsibility will be to study the organization and procedures of all executive agencies and to work for the elimination of duplication and to streamline the performance of all state activities.

We recommend a nonpartisan constitutional study commission to place Wisconsin's fine Constitution under continuous scrutiny for the purposes of improvement, and to give wide distribution to the results of its studies.

XII. Civil Service: State employes are underpaid. We are losing good men to industry and other states. To meet this competition, we support more adequate salaries and full social security retirement benefits in addition to their state retirement benefits.

XIII. Finances: The financial problems of our state government have deepened during the last 2 years and since Republican candidates made their 1954 claims that the state was in good financial condition and would need no additional taxes. Less than 3 months after the election the Republican Governor admitted that the state was in a serious financial situation and needed several new tax increases. Driven into a corner by their own failure to provide for sufficient state revenues while they used up a 46 million dollar surplus, the present Republican administration resorted to trick methods to balance the budget by "Robbing Peter to Pay Paul" and diverting moneys from funds that had been earmarked for other uses.

Wisconsin Democrats pledge that they will face up squarely to the substantial financial problems thrust upon our state government by years of expediency in the administration of state finances in the face of inevitable heavier demands for state expenditures. We firmly believe in taxation based on ability to pay and to achieve such a system we pledge ourselves to:

1. Oppose a general sales tax regardless of its purpose.
2. Reopen income tax returns to public inspection to minimize income tax evasion.
3. Favor legislation to change state income tax rates on corporations so as to decrease taxes on those businesses with smaller net incomes; also favor elimination of 10% credit for federal corporation income tax on state corporation income tax.

4. Adopt a state franchise tax on banks to eliminate loophole that now permits banks to escape payment of their fair share of state taxes.

5. Require railroads, like all other business, to pay a state corporation income tax.

6. Restore the privilege dividend tax with dividends to Wisconsin residents taxed as personal income and an offset permitted Wisconsin residents for the dividend tax paid.

7. Improve administration of state income tax laws by providing additional auditors and increasing penalties.

8. Favor complete restudy of personal and real property tax law and administration so as to equalize tax obligations, remove inventory inequities and eliminate unfair exemptions and valuations.

9. Consider general adjustment in rates of personal income tax if adoption of foregoing measures will not provide sufficient funds to insure adequate program of state aids to schools.

XIV. Reapportionment: We condemn the Republican Party for its legislative attempt to gerrymander the 2 congressional districts in Milwaukee. The Democratic Party supports a full and long overdue reapportionment of all congressional districts.

We further propose that in the event the legislature fails to reapportion at the first session next following the national decennial census, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court shall appoint an impartial nonlegislative body which shall exercise the reapportioning power.

XV. Corrupt Practices: The Wisconsin Corrupt Practices law is a farce. It does not regulate effectively either the amounts spent in election campaigns or the reporting of contributions. The entire law should be re-examined and a new law adopted to provide realistic and enforceable limits on campaign spending and a system of reports that will enable voters to know who is financing every candidate and political party. We favor repeal of the Catlin Act which unfairly restricts legitimate political participation by labor organizations on behalf of their members.

XVI. Lobbying: The Democratic Party favors amending the lobbying law to prohibit a lobbyist or any other person from giving and any legislator from accepting directly or indirectly anything of value from anyone interested in any legislation pending before the legislature.

XVII. Influence Peddling: The Democratic Party favors enactment of legislation to outlaw influence peddling by providing criminal penalties for state officials or employes who sell their political influence and by prohibiting them from representing private interests for compensation in matters pending before the legislature or executive department.

XVIII. Secrecy: We condemn the far too prevalent practice of conducting governmental activities in secrecy. We favor the enactment of legislation that will require all state and local public elected and appointed bodies, boards and commissions to be open to the public, and legislative rule changes to prevent party caucuses from closing press and public out of state legislative deliberations.

XIX. Economic Development of Northern Wisconsin: Twenty years of Republican inaction has retarded the rightful development of the northern third of the state. The Democratic Party believes that the economic rehabilitation of this area is imperative and favors a comprehensive program for the development of the vast forest, agricultural, mineral, industrial and recreational potentialities of this area by:

1. The accumulation of basic data on its natural forest and mineral resources.
2. A research program for the utilization of such resources.
3. The creation of an atmosphere in which such rehabilitation will thrive. We feel that through the economic stabilization of this area the true value of the St. Lawrence Waterway along the shores of Lake Superior will be brought home to Wisconsin.

XX. Metropolitan Areas: Over half of our citizens live in fast-growing urban communities which have developed into great contiguous metropolitan areas and which present many complex problems that are already requiring increased legislative attention. The Democratic Party supports the establishment of a special state-wide commission to make a penetrating analysis of all of the problems that are associated with the growth of metropolitan areas and to investigate possible solutions of these problems including:

1. Establishment of metropolitan water systems expanding on present city systems.
2. Possible performance of other government services on a metropolitan basis to eliminate duplication and inefficiency.
3. Provision for expressways, off-street parking and other highway improvements.
4. Increased highway safety measures.
5. Further support of urban renewal programs.
6. More realistic annexation procedures.

XXI. Indian Affairs: The Democratic Party pledges its full efforts to make the citizenship of Wisconsin's Indians meaningful by combining social and economic progress with the preservation of native cultures. In the case of the Menominees, we shall continue the fight to preserve their forest on a sustained yield basis as the best guarantee of the tribe's sound future.

REPUBLICAN PARTY STATE PLATFORM1956

Wisconsin's international stature as a model of effective, responsive, forward-looking government has been achieved during a century of almost uninterrupted leadership by Republican officials and legislators dedicated to the highest standards of public service.

This record is founded upon certain basic principles of government to which the Republican Party has scrupulously adhered: that the people deserve the highest standards of honesty, integrity and efficiency in their government; that the welfare of each individual citizen is vital to the welfare of the state as a whole; that the purpose of government is to serve, not to dominate; that government, to be good government, must be responsive to the needs, the hopes and the desires of the people.

Republican dedication to these principles has produced in Wisconsin a government which has dealt thoughtfully and decisively with the problems of every individual and every group. The weak and the strong, the sick and the well, the farmer, the factory worker, the shopkeeper and the industrialist have benefited from leadership which regards no man's problem as unimportant.

We believe that Wisconsin's greatest strength lies in strong local government, supplemented and supported by state government. In Wisconsin under Republican leadership nearly 60% of taxes collected by the state is returned to local units of government.

The 1956 candidates of the Republican Party take pride in this record of accomplishment, and pledge continued dedication to the principles of government which produced it.

Yet this pride in past accomplishments is tempered by the conviction that all the problems of government are never solved and that effective leadership in Wisconsin government will be as vital in the future as it has been in the past. It is this experienced, responsive, honest leadership which the Republican Party proposes to provide.

The Republican candidates are in accord with the platform adopted by the Republican state convention in May, as appended hereto, and pledge the implementation of the specific proposals in that platform which are of particular interest to various groups of citizens of the state. For example, we propose supplementing teachers' retirement benefits with social security coverage which will provide increased retirement benefits.

We call particular attention, however, to certain overshadowing problems of state government with which ensuing administrations will be required to deal.

*Adopted at platform convention held October 2, 1956.

The growing population, resulting from increased births and lengthened life spans, has magnified the state's responsibilities to citizens at both ends of the life cycle. Increasing amounts of public money will be required during the years to come to educate and guide the young and provide security for the aged. It is imperative that these services be provided. Yet it is also imperative that they be administered so efficiently and effectively that their cost does not unduly burden the taxpayers of the state.

Because of the efficient, economical and far-sighted leadership which it has enjoyed under the Republican Party in the past, however, Wisconsin is almost unique in the financial soundness of its state government as it continues to meet these problems.

Under Republican leadership, Wisconsin has met all its responsibilities to every segment of society, has vastly improved its welfare and educational services, has increased its support to local units of government through more liberal grants-in-aid and shared taxes, and has in the last 10 years provided more than $100,000,000 worth of urgently needed physical facilities for its educational, charitable, and penal institutions.

Yet despite all of these accomplishments and expenditures, the state remains free from debt; its budget is in balance; its prevailing rates of income taxation are lower than those which existed 15 years ago; and it remains one of a handful of states which has not found it necessary to resort to any form of general sales taxation.

The Republican Party, while meeting its responsibilities to all its citizens, pledges to continue the sound fiscal practices and the attention to administrative efficiency which have produced this sound fiscal condition.

The growing needs of the state in the fields of education, agriculture, and public welfare will not be neglected or ignored. We pledge untiring efforts to provide the necessary school facilities, and the public school teachers, which increased enrollments require. Education is the bulwark of good citizenship, and what we expend today — even at a sacrifice — will be returned a thousand-fold in the future.

While meeting these responsibilities to its citizens, however, the state government will continue the sound fiscal practices and the attention to administrative efficiency which have characterized Republican government in Wisconsin in the past. We will meet the needs effectively but not extravagantly.

To meet the requirements for additional revenues which growing educational and welfare costs will inevitably thrust upon us, we pledge to give increased attention to the stimulation of Wisconsin's economic growth in the belief that new industry and greater and more lucrative employment for its citizens, offer the most promising solution to future revenue needs.

We believe that, as the state shares in a virile, expanding economy, the necessity of imposing additional taxes may be avoided. In the event, however, that additional revenues must be obtained, it is the intention of the Republican Party to employ the traditional tax sources, and to maintain the longstanding Wisconsin Republican tradition of taxation based upon ability to pay.

As Republican candidates, we take pride in the reputation for good government which Wisconsin has earned under Republican leadership. We believe that the citizens of Wisconsin measure a political party by its performance, not by its promises. The effectiveness of Republican administration in Wisconsin can be judged on the basis of a long and outstanding record of performance, and of devoted service to the people of the state.

As candidates who regard a political platform as a solemn pledge, and who have meticulously implemented the pledges in the Republican platforms of the past, we make in this document no rash or irresponsible promises calculated to win support from selfish special interest groups.

Instead, we pledge only what we know we can provide, and what we have demonstrated by past performance that we can and will provide — honest, efficient, responsive leadership, which will insure for the people of Wisconsin a future of peace, progress and prosperity.

APPENDIXText of Platform Adopted by the May 1956
Republican Party of Wisconsin
at Milwaukee*PREAMBLE

During more than a century of service to the cause of enlightened government in our nation, the Republican Party has steadfastly acted as a party of principles, championing the rights of the individual and of every minority group, and dedicated to the principle that the people deserve the highest standards of honesty, integrity and efficiency in their government.

The Republican Party believes that the welfare of each individual citizen of our state is vital to the welfare of the state as a whole; that the purpose of government is to serve, never to dominate; and that government, to be good government, must be responsive to the needs, the hopes and the desires of the people.

Throughout the years during which the Republican Party has been entrusted with responsibility for the administration of the Wisconsin state government, it has demonstrated the virtue of these principles by providing in our state a quality of government unequalled elsewhere.

The Republican Party, during its continued leadership of Wisconsin political affairs, will regard the continuation of this leadership, and the maintenance of honesty, efficiency and integrity in government, as its first and most solemn responsibility.

AGRICULTURE

The Republican Party of Wisconsin believes that the farmer is as entitled to a fair price for his product as is the industrial worker to a fair wage, and industry to a fair profit. We are determined to help farmers stabilize their income at a higher level.

We pledge continued support to the numerous Republican-sponsored state programs designed to further these ends, which include:

The aggressive program aimed at brucellosis eradication, for which $10,000,000 has been appropriated in the past 6 years.

The accelerated, nationwide agricultural promotion program, designed to increase the sale of Wisconsin agricultural products.

The program of agricultural research and technical assistance carried out by the state department and university college of agriculture.

The administration of the school milk and school lunch programs by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Laws permitting farmers to depreciate new wells and milk houses over a 5-year period for income tax purposes.

The reduction of license fees for trucks carrying dairy products to primary markets.

The establishment of a minimum butterfat content of 3.25% for standardized milk, and of standards for milk pasteurization and bulk milk sales.

The creation of a legislative study committee to consider dairy prices, price spreads and costs. We favor creation of a commission to continue this work.

We believe that government support programs must have a sound economic base and must not discriminate in favor of one section of agriculture to the detriment of the Wisconsin farmer. We pledge our support to agricultural legislation which treats the Wisconsin farmer on a fair basis with the so-called basic commodities.

We feel that milk is the most basic agricultural commodity to the health and welfare of the nation. We further pledge our continued efforts to eliminate the barriers which discriminate against the free flow of Wisconsin milk. We insist that equal treatment be afforded manufactured dairy products.

We also believe that the true solution to the problems of the farmer lies in expanding consumption of dairy and other farm products. We recognize that it is the obligation of the state and federal governments to aid and assist agriculture in developing new and wider uses of dairy and other farm products in the school milk and school lunch programs and by qualified welfare agencies.

The Republican Party will continue its traditional support of soil conservation and erosion control, and of rural electrification, and farmer-owned, farmer-operated cooperatives operating under the modernized code enacted by the 1955 Republican legislature.

HIGHWAYS AND HIGHWAY SAFETY

The Republican Party takes pride in the highway system which has been developed and maintained under its leadership.

Wisconsin's farm-to-market road system, the backbone of our agricultural economy, remains the finest in the United States. The 1955 Legislature, recognizing the demands of vastly increased motor vehicle traffic, developed the most productive highway building program in a quarter century which will provide for vastly accelerated construction on the state trunk highway system.

Mindful of the risk to human life and property which modern highway traffic engenders, the Republican Party takes pride in the actions of the 1955 Legislature and the Governor in the field of highway safety. Enactment of a more stringent drivers' licensing law, a greatly strengthened state traffic patrol and establishment of a point system for dealing with repeated traffic violators will prove of particular value in removing careless, reckless and incompetent drivers from the highways. Provisions for accelerated highway improvement will also produce dividends in traffic safety by providing highways capable of handling more traffic more safely through straighter, wider, flatter roads.

We pledge continued improvement of our highway program, to maintain a safe and adequate highway system in which every citizen can take pride.

PUBLIC WELFARE

The attitude of the Republican Party toward those in our society who must look to the state for help was best expressed in these words of President Eisenhower:

"In all those things which deal with people, be liberal, be human. In all those things which deal with the people's money, or their economy, or their form of government, be conservative."

The Republican Party has always fulfilled its responsibility to those in society who must look to the state for help, and under its leadership most of the nation's constructive programs of social welfare have been developed.

Under Republican administrations, vast improvements have been made in the quality of care at our state institutions of public welfare, devoted to treating and curing patients, and returning them to useful lives.

We pledge a continuation of a sound and humane program of public welfare, recognizing our responsibility to give adequate help to those who need it, while protecting the taxpayers from unreasonable demands for help from those capable of helping themselves. We further pledge continued studies of all aspects of the public welfare program, to make certain that adequate standards of care and assistance are provided at maximum efficiency, and the lowest possible cost.

SMALL BUSINESS & INDUSTRY

We believe that industry and business thrive best in a free atmosphere, unhampered by needless bureaucratic restrictions and regulations. We shall resist any attempt by government to invade the proper sphere of private industry and business.

We note that the Republican Attorney General of Wisconsin has vigorously enforced state antitrust legislation enacted by the Republican legislature. We pledge adherence to this program to assure the continued economic health and prosperity of small business.

The Republican Party believes that continued industrial growth is essential to greater prosperity and expanded employment. The Industrial Development Division was created by the 1955 Republican legislature for the purpose of encouraging industrial expansion and attracting new industry and business to the state. We pledge further support to the aims and objectives of this program.

It shall be the continued goal of the Republican Party to create an economic climate that will permit Wisconsin business and industry to compete on a favorable basis with that of other states.

EDUCATION

The Republican Party of Wisconsin takes pride in the educational services which it has made available to the citizens of the state, and pledges that it will continue to maintain equality of educational opportunity in our state, and give particular consideration to the provision of specialized education for those who need it, or can benefit from it.

We pledge a continuing study of elementary school problems to ensure the maintenance of local control over the participation in educational affairs. We recognize the burden which increased population is placing upon our educational facilities at all levels, and pledge that this need will be met in a manner which will maintain Wisconsin's leadership in education.

Our belief in the principle that the best administered government is that which is closest to the people is the basis for our continued opposition to federal aid to education, and all of the federal regulations and controls which such aid would impose.

We favor the extension of social security to the members of the teaching profession on a voluntary basis.

We take pride in Wisconsin's program of vocational and adult education. The demand for highly trained workers in industry and agriculture is constantly increasing, and we favor and support the program of vocational and adult education as an appropriate and proven means for the education of youth and adults.

FINANCE

The Republican Party points with pride to the sound fiscal condition of the state government, as contrasted with that in which the federal government was left after 20 years of Democrat rule, and that of most other states in the union.

Under Republican leadership, Wisconsin has met all its responsibilities to every segment of society, has vastly improved its welfare and educational services, has increased its supports to local units of government through more liberal grants in aid and shared taxes, and has built or is building more than $100,000,000 worth of urgently needed physical facilities for its educational, charitable and penal institutions.

Despite all these accomplishments and expenditures, the state remains free from debt, the budget is balanced and the prevailing rates of income taxation are lower than those which existed 15 years ago.

The Republican Party pledges to continue the sound fiscal practices, and the attention to administrative economy and efficiency, which has produced this sound fiscal condition. It recognizes, however, that increased taxes are the inevitable result of increased services by government, and urges that the legislature and the citizens of the state recognize their partnership in the state's fiscal affairs.

We further pledge continued analysis of the long-range fiscal needs of the state with the dual purpose of providing the most effective and economical service and adjusting the tax structure to perpetuate an equitable distribution of the tax burden.

We are confident that the recommendations of the interim committee charged with study of the state's long-range fiscal problems will offer equitable solutions to the state's future fiscal requirements.

LABOR

The impressive reputation of the Republican Party for dealing fairly and equitably with every segment of society is demonstrated in its record in the field of labor legislation.

Republican legislatures have developed a comprehensive group of labor laws which deal justly with both the workingman and the general public and which have offered labor union members and all working people a measure of protection unequalled in any other state.

Wisconsin's workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation laws were not only the first in the nation, but remain the most equitable prevailing in any state. Wisconsin's laws dealing with the rights of workmen injured or disabled in the course of their employment are outstanding.

The Republican Party pledges that it will maintain its laws protecting the rights of workmen, and reaffirms its beliefs in the following rights of labor union members and working people generally:

The right to participate in legal union activity.

The right to free collective bargaining.

The right to a job without first joining a union.

The right to a secret ballot in any election.

The right to establish "union shop" contracts by agreement with management.

The right to strike.

The right to protection against unfair practices by either employer or union officials.

The right of political activity of his own choice and freedom to contribute thereto, but protection from forced contribution to political causes in which he does not believe. We commend the 1955 Republican Legislature for protecting the individual rights of union members in this respect.

The right to protection from personal financial responsibility in damage cases against his or her union.

CONSERVATION

The Republican Party regards as a basic responsibility of government the protection of Wisconsin's natural resources; the protection of our streams and lakes from unwarranted pollution; the provision of an extensive program for the reforestation of cut-over and waste lands; the maintenance and intensification of the state's outstanding fire and pest control programs, and the acceleration of existing program for the development of farm wood lots to benefit farmers and industry.

We favor the continuation of the stepped-up program for acquisition of public hunting and fishing grounds and a continuing improvement of our state parks.

We pledge support to an expanding commercial fishing industry, particularly through continued study and extermination of the lamprey eel from Great Lakes waters.

The Republican Party recognizes the value of existing programs which give the general public an advisory voice in the formulation of conservation policy and regulations, in the expenditure of conservation funds, and in the prudent location of conservation facilities, and pledges the continuation of this public participation in conservation planning.

We pledge continuation of programs to advertise and promote Wisconsin's recreational facilities on the vastly expanded basis approved by the 1955 legislature, in order that Wisconsin may remain the "Vacationland of America."

We recognize the need for an expanded program of conservation education and firearms safety in Wisconsin schools, and pledge a careful study of means by which such programs can best be adapted to the school curriculum.

LOBBYING

The Republican Party takes pride in the standards of honesty and integrity which have prevailed in the Wisconsin legislature under its leadership.

Wisconsin's legislative affairs have remained free from the charges and examples of corruption and influence which are common-place in other states. We believe that this integrity of Wisconsin legislatures arises largely from the high caliber of individual legislators elected under the Republican Party banner, and to the stringent laws which Republicans have provided to regulate lobbyists, and prevent improper lobbying activities.

The Republican Party pledges to maintain these lobbying laws, which have been so widely heralded as the finest in the nation.

HUMAN RIGHTS

The Republican Party of Wisconsin reaffirms its conviction that racial and religious prejudice has no place in the hearts of men and that discriminatory treatment based on race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry is contrary to the American heritage of fair play and equal opportunity.

We pledge that the basic rights of all citizens shall be diligently defended by the Republican Party, in accordance with the provisions of the state and federal constitutions.

We point to the creation, by the Republican legislature, of the Governor's Commission on Human Rights and its accomplishments by means of education, discussion and persuasion to achieve in Wisconsin new levels of good human relations. The effective and prompt support of the Attorney General in all matters involving law enforcement has given maximum effectiveness to this program.

Through action of the Governor of Wisconsin, various departments of the State of Wisconsin have removed from their rules, regulations and forms requirements to state race, creed, color or national origin which might be the basis of discrimination and the Wisconsin legislature in enacting a new administrative code provided that:

"No rule, either in its terms or application, shall discriminate for or against any person by reason of his race, creed, color, national origin or ancestry."

We pledge that Republicans will continue to support this program.

FEDERAL AIDS

The Republican Party reaffirms its opposition to the further extension of federal aids, and urges a continuing reappraisal of aids currently being granted to state and local governments by the congress.

Federal aids do not provide something for nothing. The taxes levied to support them are invariably greater than the aids received. The price of federal aids in any field is an inevitable loss of sovereignty to the units of government which receives them.

Believing in the principles of local self-government, the Republican Party opposes the granting of federal aid in any area of activity in which local and state governments are able to act for themselves.

CIVIL DEFENSE

We commend the 1955 Republican legislature for creating the State Civil Defense Council and providing the required organization for civil defense functions in case of emergency.

We pledge a continuing evaluation and appraisal of the requirements of a workable and realistic Civil Defense program, and the provision of such measures as may be required to assure the safety of Wisconsin citizens in the event of an enemy attack.

INDIAN AFFAIRS

The Republican Party approves and believes in an effective legislative program which will preserve wholly and intact the Menominee forest as a unit under sustained yield timber management.

It favors development of an effective and reasonable program of withdrawal of federal supervision and an orderly and gradual acceptance of self-government as full citizens of Wisconsin, which will take due account of the expressed wishes and needs of the Menominee people.

We pledge to assist wherever possible in helping develop a working economy for the Menominees with continued recognition to the needs of the Indians on a level and plane equal in all programs with all other Wisconsin citizens.

VETERANS

The Republican Party is aware of its continuing obligation to those veterans who served their country in time of war, and has recognized this obligation by providing a system of veterans' assistance which is universally regarded as the finest in the nation.

The Wisconsin Republican administrations have demonstrated their belief that the state's obligation to its veterans cannot be discharged by any single act. As a consequence, they have established a program which will be available to all war veterans throughout their lives, providing educational, medical and rehabilitative benefits in the form of grants and loans. Republican legislatures further have provided for the finest standards of medical care at a nominal rate for every veteran admitted to Wisconsin General Hospital.

We believe that the interests of veterans and the public are best served through continuation of this program under the administration of a separate department of veterans affairs, and we pledge the continued support and development of these programs.

Beginning in 1956 electors casting a preferential ballot for a committed delegate did not vote for individual delegates either at large or by district but voted a straight ticket pursuant to Chapter 689, Laws of 1951. For that reason all of the delegates at large and district delegates in a particular district for a particular candidate received the same number of votes.
