

89081867418

B89081867418A

Chippewa Treaty Rights

“The Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters performs an important service in making available this work, which is the first product of an ongoing research project on Wisconsin Chippewa treaty rights being conducted by Graduate School Dean and Professor of American Indian History Ronald N. Satz and a group of students at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire. This is an important study that shows the significance of historical research in the service of public policy. . . . A reading of the historical analysis and documents in this book should help all of us understand and appreciate Wisconsin Indian treaty rights. Understanding does not come easily, but it is essential to preservation of the rights of all of us—Indian and non-Indian alike.”

—Rennard Strickland, professor of law and director of the American Indian Law and Policy Center at the University of Oklahoma, and editor-in-chief of the highly acclaimed 1982 revision of The Handbook of Federal Indian Law.

This study is “a remarkable piece of work. A major contribution!”

—Richard St. Germaine, professor of education and Chippewa history at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire and former Lac Courte Oreilles Tribal Chair.

“This is a Cracker-Jacks, a first class contribution to the subject [of Chippewa treaty rights] which will knock the pins from beneath the opponents’ arguments as well as provide the public understanding of the treaty question.”

—David R. Wrone, professor of history at the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point and co-editor of Who’s the Savage?

WISCONSIN ACADEMY OF SCIENCES, ARTS AND LETTERS
1922 UNIVERSITY AVENUE
MADISON, WISCONSIN 53705
TELEPHONE 608-263-1692